Response Requested to 1993 Patent Examiner's Action Survey

As part of the continuing quality reinforcement efforts of the Patent and Trademark Office, the Office has sent out a Patent Action Survey Form with each Patent Examiner's Office action mailed during a period of several weeks during December, 1993-January, 1994. If you have received one or more of these forms, please complete each one, no later than the time of response to the Office action being surveyed.

The survey is intended to determine whether Office actions are perceived to be clear and complete on certain specific and important items related to patent examining practices and procedures. The results of the survey will be used in the development of Office training programs. The survey is a follow-up to the Patent Action Surveys conducted in 1991 and 1992. Where training is provided to address identified deficiencies in performance, follow-up surveys are intended to be conducted in the future to determine whether the training was effective enough to improve performance in the measured areas.

The Survey Form is brief and easy to complete and does not permit identification of the respondent or of the particular application involved. The Survey Form may be completed at the time of response to the Office Action. It is possible that a practitioner may receive many Office Actions containing a Survey Form during the survey period. To have results that are meaningful, the Office needs a high response rate. Therefore, it is important that patent practitioners complete each survey form no later than the time of response to the Office action being surveyed. To assure that this form is completed and mailed back to the address indicated on the Survey Form, it would be desirable for patent practitioners to have their office managers/docketing personnel take appropriate steps to keep the form and Office action together for the practitioner's benefit.

Your cooperation in completing the Survey Form is appreciated.

GUIDELINES FOR INTERIM EXTENSION UNDER 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5) OF A PATENT TERM PRIOR TO REGULATORY APPROVAL OF A PRODUCT FOR COMMERCIAL MARKETING OR USE - PUBLIC LAW 103-179 (December 3, 1993)

This notice is intended to establish initial guidelines for patent owners who are seeking interim extensions of patent terms pursuant to newly enacted 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5). These guidelines will be in effect until further notice. These guidelines do not affect the rights of a patent owner or the procedures to request interim extensions under 35 U.S.C. § 156(e)(2).

Section 156(d)(5)(A) of Title 35, United States Code, provides that a patent owner seeking an interim extension of the terms of a patent pursuant to its provisions must submit an application to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks (Commissioner) within a certain defined period of time. Section 156(d)(5) specifies certain components the application is to contain, including "such patent or other information as the Commissioner may require." See 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5)(A)(v). Section 156(h) provides that the "Commissioner may establish such fees as the Commissioner determines appropriate to cover the costs to the Office of receiving and acting upon applications under this section." The purpose of this notice is to provide guidelines which a patent owner or its agent should use in (1) deciding whether the requirements for the submission of an application for an interim extension of the term of a patent are satisfied, and (2) making the submission of such an application to the Patent and Trademark Office.

This notice includes guidelines as to the actual content of an application for interim extension of the term of a patent. The guidelines should be used in determining whether a patent is subject to, and meets the conditions for interim extension of its term under section 156(d)(5). The guidelines should also be used in preparing and filing an application for interim extension of the patent term. If any application for interim extension of the term of a patent is filed in accordance with 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5), but is not in compliance with the requirements of this notice, applicant will be notified of the deficiencies in the application and will be given a period of time within which to correct the deficiencies.

GUIDELINES

§ A. Patents eligible for interim extension of the patent term.

(a) Any patent which claims a product as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, or a method of using such a product, is eligible for an interim extension of its patent term in accordance with 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5).

(b) The term "product" referred to in paragraph (a) of this section means a product as defined in 35 U.S.C. 156(f).

§ B. Conditions for interim extension of patent term.

A patent may be granted an interim extension of its term if:

(a) the patent claims a product or a method of using or manufacturing a product as defined in § A of this notice;

Assistant Secretary of Commerce and
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Patent and Trademark Office

Effect of December 1, 1993 Amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures on Trademark Trial and Appeal Board Inter Partes Proceedings

Trademark Rule 2.116(a) provides that, except as otherwise provided, and wherever applicable and appropriate, procedure and practice in Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (Board) inter partes proceedings shall be governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures. Trademark Rule 2.120(a) provides, in part, that the provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure relating to discovery shall apply in opposition, cancellation, interference, and concurrent use registration proceedings except as otherwise provided in Trademark Rule 2.120; and that the opening of discovery is governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Thus, where the Board has its own rule concerning a particular matter of practice or procedure, that rule governs; if there is no Board rule concerning the matter, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure apply, where applicable and appropriate.

On December 1, 1993, certain of the rules in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures were amended, and one new rule was added. Specifically, Rules 1, 4, 5, 11, 12, 15, 16, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 36, 37, 38, 50, 52, 53, 54, 58, 71A, 72, 73, 74, 75, and 76 were amended, and new Rule 4.1 was added. Included in the amendments are changes in the discovery rules to require that the parties to a civil action: (1) make a series of automatic disclosures, during the pretrial stages of the proceedings, of certain evidence; (2) file the disclosures with the court; (3) meet, early in the proceeding, to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosure and to develop a plan for discovery; and, (4) transmit to the court a written report outlining the discovery plan. The timing of some of these matters is tied to the timing of a scheduling conference to be held, or a scheduling order to be issued, by the court. The timing and sequence of other of the matters depends upon the direction of the court. Further, parties are prohibited from seeking any of the traditional forms of discovery until after they have met and developed their discovery plan.

The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) believes that the application of the cited provisions in inter partes proceedings before the Board would increase the complexity and cost of the proceedings and would be unduly burdensome both to the Board and the parties. For these reasons, the Office is now of the opinion that these provisions would have a detrimental effect on, and are not appropriate for, Board proceedings. Moreover, the Office's Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs has recommended that incorporation of the amendments in Board practice be deferred until the Office can evaluate the effects of the amendments on civil actions. On the other hand, some of the provisions added by the amendments are not objectionable, and others so clearly do not apply in, and/or are not appropriate for, Board proceedings that they need not be mentioned.

Accordingly, application of Rule 2.120(a) is hereby waived, in pertinent part, to the extent that the following provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as amended, which otherwise arguably would apply in Board proceedings, and which would, in the opinion of the Office, have a detrimental effect on those proceedings, shall not be applied therein unless and until further notice is given:

1. Rule 16(b) [requirement that court issue a scheduling order, after consulting with parties by scheduling conference, telephone, mail, or other suitable means]

2. Rules 26(a)(1)-26(a)(4) [requirements for series of automatic disclosures of evidence]

3. Rule 26(b)(4) [requirements for taking discovery from a person identified, in automatic disclosure, as an expert whose opinions may be presented at trial]

4. Rule 26(d), first sentence [prohibition against the taking of discovery before the parties have met to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosures and to develop a plan for discovery]

5. Rule 26(e)(1) [requirement for supplementation of automatic disclosures]

6. Rule 26(f) [requirement that the parties meet, early in the proceeding, to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosure and to develop a plan for discovery]

7. Rule 26(g)(1) [signature requirements for automatic disclosures]

8. Rule 30(a)(2)(C) [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to take a deposition prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

9. Rule 33(a), last sentence [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve interrogatories prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

10. Rule 34(b), last sentence of first paragraph [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve request for production of documents and things prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

11. Rule 36(a), last sentence of first paragraph [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve request for admission prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

12. Rule 37(a)(2)(A) [provision of motion to compel disclosure and for sanctions for failure to make automatic disclosure]

13. Rule 37(c)(1) [description of sanctions which may be imposed for failure to make, or supplement, automatic disclosure]

14. Rule 37(g) [provision of sanctions for failure to participate in good faith in the framing of a discovery plan]

Discovery in Board inter partes proceedings will continue to open as it did prior to December 1, 1993 amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, that is, as provided in those rules as they existed on November 30, 1993. Thus, interrogatories, requests for production of documents and things, and requests for admission may be served upon the plaintiff after the proceeding commences (i.e., after the notice of opposition or petition for cancellation is filed, and after the mailing by the Board of the notice of institution in an interference or concurrent use proceeding), and upon the defendant with or after service of the complaint by the Board. Discovery depositions generally may be taken by any party after commencement of the proceeding. Board's permission to take a discovery deposition must be obtained in certain situations, including a situation in which the plaintiff seeks to take a deposition prior to the expiration of 30 days after service of the complaint by the Board upon any defendant, except where a defendant has served a notice of taking deposition or otherwise sought discovery or where the notice of deposition: (1) states that the proposed deponent is about to go out of the United States and will be unavailable for examination unless the person's deposition is taken before expiration of the 30-day period, and, (2) sets forth facts to support the statement.

Similarly, the practice embodied in Rules 33(a), 34(b), and 36(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as they read on November 30, 1993, that a defendant may serve responses to interrogatories, requests for production of documents and things, and requests for admission either within 30 days after service of a discovery request [35 days if service of the request for discovery is made by first-class mail, "Express Mail," or overnight courier—Trademark Rule 2.119(c)], or within 45 days after service of the complaint upon it by the Board, whichever is later, will continue to be followed in Board proceedings.

The Patent and Trademark Office will, in due course, publish a notice of proposed rule making to amend, as may be necessary, the trademark rules governing practice and procedure in inter partes proceedings before the Board.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. CL." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. CL." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Announcement Of Certain Amendments To The Regulations Under The Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)
Effective 01 January 1994

Certain of the Regulations under the Patent Cooperation Treaty were amended with effect from 01 January 1994, and are reproduced below. The following amendments may be of primary interest to applicants from the United States:

1) a change to PCT Rule 19.1 which establishes the International Bureau as an alternative receiving Office; and

2) a provision in PCT Rule 19.4 for transmitting an international application to the International Bureau in its capacity as a receiving Office if it is filed with a national Office that is not competent to act as a receiving Office under PCT Rule 19.1 or 19.2. An international application that indicates at least one applicant as a resident or national of a PCT member country, but that does not indicate at least one applicant as a resident or national of the United States is such an application and will be considered to have been received by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on behalf of the International Bureau as receiving Office under Rule 19.1(a)(iii).

PCT Rule 19.4 Provides that transmittal of such an international application by a national Office to the International Bureau may be subject to the payment of a fee equal to the transmittal fee charged by that Office under Rule 14. Accordingly, the fee currently charged by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office is $200.

Applicants are cautioned that before an application may be filed with the International Bureau in its capacity as a receiving Office, appropriate permission to file abroad must be obtained. See 35 U.S.C. 184 and 37 CFR 5.11.

The information contained in this notice should be sufficient pending appropriate changes that will be made in Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Response Requested to 1993 Patent Examiner's Action Survey

As part of the continuing quality reinforcement efforts of the Patent and Trademark Office, the Office has sent out a Patent Action Survey Form with each Patent Examiner's Office action mailed during a period of several weeks during December, 1993-January, 1994. If you have received one or more of these forms, please complete each one, no later than the time of response to the Office action being surveyed.

The survey is intended to determine whether Office actions are perceived to be clear and complete on certain specific and important items related to patent examining practices and procedures. The results of the survey will be used in the development of Office training programs. The survey is a follow-up to the Patent Action Surveys conducted in 1991 and 1992. Where training is provided to address identified deficiencies in performance, follow-up surveys are intended to be conducted in the future to determine whether the training was effective enough to improve performance in the measured areas.

The Survey Form is brief and easy to complete and does not permit identification of the respondent or of the particular application involved. The Survey Form may be completed at the time of response to the Office Action. It is possible that a practitioner may receive many Office Actions containing a Survey Form during the survey period. To have results that are meaningful, the Office needs a high response rate. Therefore, it is important that patent practitioners complete each survey form no later than the time of response to the Office action being surveyed. To assure that this form is completed and mailed back to the address indicated on the Survey Form, it would be desirable for patent practitioners to have their office managers/docketing personnel take appropriate steps to keep the form and Office action together for the practitioner's benefit.

Your cooperation in completing the Survey Form is appreciated.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. CL." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
